

Contract, PO, RFx, and Shopping Cart Output Long Texts

The Outputs (when you click the Print Preview button and/or print) for the Contract, PO, RFx, and Shopping Carts in SRM now reflect any line breaks and carriage returns as they are entered in SRM.

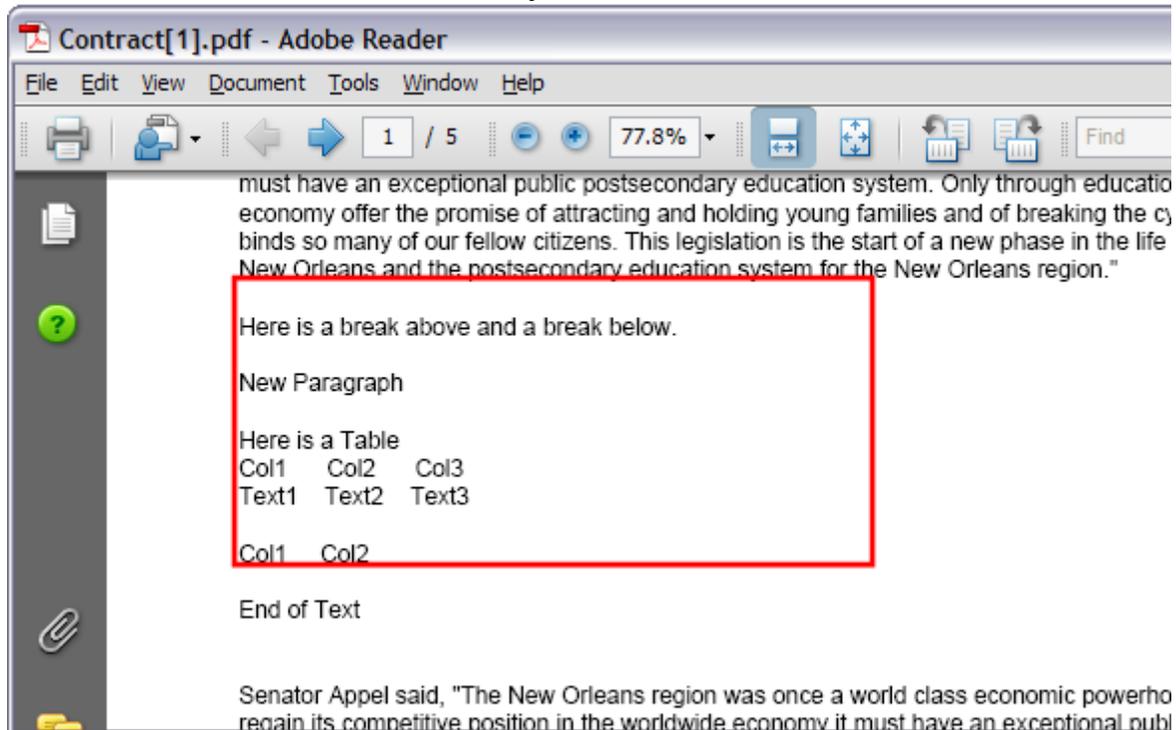

Previously, the Header text in these documents would group the text on the output into one long run-on, or it would chop off the text after a certain number of lines.

Now, these documents reflect the line breaks and carriage returns as they are entered in SRM.

For example, the following text entered in SRM:

Prints like this on the contract output form:

Note that the line breaks and the spacing between within the text is displayed properly.
