Restore Louisiana Flood Recovery Plan
Frequently Asked Questions

Who is funding the Restore Louisiana flood recovery plan?

- In 2016, after Governor John Bel Edwards sought federal flood recovery funding for Louisiana, Congress provided two appropriations of Community Development Block Grant-Disaster Recovery (CDBG-DR) funds for nationwide recovery from several disasters. These funds were allocated by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to various states. HUD allocated $437,800,000 from the first appropriation and $1,219,172,000 from the second appropriation to Louisiana. The Restore Louisiana flood recovery plan is being administered by the state’s Office of Community Development, Disaster Recovery Unit (OCD-DRU).

I already received some federal funding, am I automatically disqualified?

- No, the award calculated will take into account all other funding sources. Recovery assistance is available from several federal and non-federal sources: the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA); the Small Business Administration (SBA); the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD); private and NFIP flood insurance; state and local governments; charitable institutions; and other sources. NOTE: Federal law prohibits any person, business concern, or other entity from receiving federal funds for any part of such loss for which they have received financial assistance under any other program, insurance or any other source. This would be a duplication of benefits (DOB).

Whose responsibility is it to calculate DOB?

- The homeowner is responsible for reporting all funding sources either received or anticipated to receive to the OCD-DRU program administrator prior to the award calculation. Additionally, any funds received after the award calculation also require the homeowner to report to OCD-DRU through a subrogation agreement. The state will then review an applicant’s total approved funding to determine how much the applicant is eligible to receive from CDBG-DR, or possibly return. In determining the amount the applicant may be eligible to receive from CDBG-DR, the state will calculate the applicant’s unmet need by deducting any assistance that creates a duplication of benefits from the cost of total damages. The unmet need is the maximum amount an applicant will be eligible to receive, subject to other program caps.

How is the unmet need calculated and how does this impact the amount I’m eligible to receive in federal funds?

1. Calculate the Scope of Work (SOW) required for rehabilitation, based on the damage sustained from the flood event. This SOW will be completed using an identified eligible list of items with fixed economy rate pricing. NOTE: This amount may be very different than the homeowner’s total recovery or damage amount.
2. Subtract all assistance approved to date to pay for recovery needs/damages.
3. The remainder equals the unmet need/maximum amount eligible for you to receive in federal funds (subject to program caps and guidelines).
